As a leading senior executive coach, keynote speaker and author, Pam Borton is committed to taking C-suite executives, teams and organizations to the next level. Pam's expertise aligns with many industries including finance, retail, IT, hospitality, higher education, human resources, law enforcement and healthcare. She partners with organizations across the country including Merrill Lynch, Best Buy, Penn State University, Blue Cross Blue Shield, Hyatt, St. Paul Police Department, National Guard and many more.

In today's culture and environment of constant change and disruption, building successful leaders and high performing teams is not only an expectation, it's critical for organizations to thrive. Pam provides her clients with real world experience navigating high level challenges in the workplace. Her background stands apart with 27 years of Division 1 women's basketball coaching, including 12 years as head coach at the University of Minnesota. There she led her teams to a Final Four, three straight Sweet Sixteens and numerous NCAA Tournament appearances.

As the president and CEO of Borton Partners, and the co-founder of Women ON Point, Pam uses her unique skills to help organizations tackle issues such as: getting results, leading people and teams to consistently perform at a high level, leading with grace under fire, increasing executive and leadership presence in a highly visible and public position, transformational leadership and more.

Pam is a philanthropist at heart and has founded two non-profits. She launched TeamWomen in 2011, an organization dedicated to empowering women through networking, mentoring and professional development. In 2014, Pam founded Empower Leadership Academy for Girls, providing girls in grades 9-12 with the tools and support they need to become the next generation of female leaders.

Pam's work and life have been recognized with several awards including the 2016 Twin Cities Business Magazine Marvelous Mentor Award, Top 10 Global Women of Leadership Pillar Award, (Real) Power 50 Award and New England National Coach of the Year. She was also a two-time nominee for the Naismith National Coach of the Year Award. Additionally, Pam was honored with the creation of the Pam Borton Endowment at the University of Minnesota in the College of Education and Human Development, the only endowment of its kind in the world.
